CONTRACT MANAGEMENT

The best comprehensive solution used by organizations around the world!

THE HIDDEN COSTS OF CONTRACT MISMANAGEMENT

Contract mismanagement costs companies millions of dollars on an annual basis. This is primarily due to the widespread indifference to contract management; most companies simply negotiate, sign, and toss it into a file folder. This careless approach to highly critical documents is the primary reason why scores of enterprises unknowingly lose money.

According to the Gartner Group, 60% of all supplier contracts are automatically renewed without the knowledge of the buyer, largely due to the buyer failing to give a notice of termination. Even more amazingly, 50% of contracts self-renew on multiple occasions without the buyer's knowledge.

The laissez-faire attitude towards contract management can have severe financial repercussions, as autorenewals frequently include more costly terms and late terminations may be subject to litigation.
